About This Game

HUNGER:

Computer game in the genre of survival, telling the story of a lonely soldier, abandoned to an unexplored island. People say that there is life on this island and the settlers of this island are building their civilization there. After the discovery of the settlers of this island, it turns out that there is disorder and chaos in the infected world and a threat of extinction has appeared. He was hit by a pandemic, people die from unknown ailments, and some even become bloodthirsty and uncontrollable cannibals. The shamans of several tribes are trying desperately to create a medicine, but without success. Madness and despair have settled in the hearts of people, and in order to survive, they need to forget old grievances and rally in the face of danger.

Dear friends, thank you for supporting the project, everyone who appreciates loves and waiting for new updates for this game. I always read all your comments, I understand the essence of your discontent or admiration. As far as possible I correct all possible shortcomings, flaws of the game. The project is not abandoned, Deal in all sorts of life difficulties associated with the same number developers in this project (so that there is only one more clear developer - it's me). I constantly improve my skills in programming, graphics processing, music and many other things you need to create games. Reading your comments I saw that you are asking for the project to become more accessible to a larger number of audiences I contacted this request from the publishing department of Steam, requesting a price reduction for your project. Now the game is cheaper and I think you will not have problems with its acquisition. After reading the comment about the absence of video settings, I'm right there. started developing this menu to make the game more flexible in settings and comfortable for the maximum number of systems. With you was BlackSmerch, follow the news, get new updates and enjoy the game, see you friends!
